Historical Context and Origins of the Ethiopian Constitution

Pre-Constitutional Background Ethiopia, as one of Africa's oldest nations, has a history of monarchical rule, followed by attempts at modernization and democratization. The imperial constitution of 1931 was Ethiopia's first effort at codifying governance, but it was limited in scope and authority. The fall of Emperor Haile Selassie in 1974 led to a period of socialist rule under the Derg regime, which abolished previous constitutions and established a Marxist-Leninist system. The transition to democracy in the early 1990s necessitated a new constitutional framework that would accommodate Ethiopia's ethnic diversity and political aspirations.

Adoption of the 1995 Constitution The current Ethiopian Constitution was adopted in 1995 by the Ethiopian People's Revolutionary Democratic Front (EPRDF) after years of conflict. It aimed to establish a federal system that recognizes the diverse ethnic groups and promotes self-determination. The Amharic version, being the official working language, holds particular importance in legal and governmental proceedings.
